Yuki no Otani, Murodo

Personal discovery of the Alpine route of Kurobe and meals at your convenience.

Visit Suggestions in Murodo:

- The snow wall "Yuki no Otani"

Yuki no Otani is located in Murodo, the highest point on the Kurobe-Tateyama Alpine Route (2,500 meters above sea level). You can walk along a road bordered by two very impressive snow walls that can reach up to 20 meters in height, which is equivalent to a 7-storey building! Don't miss this fantastic snow scenery that can be seen from the start of transport in April until mid-June!
- Mikurigaike Lake

Starting in June, you can also visit Lake Mikurigaike, whose pure waters reflect Mount Tateyama. The reflection of the mountains on its clear blue surface is impressive. The reflection of Mount Jodo on the lake sometimes forms the shape of a heart.
※Trolley Bus: Murodo - Daikanbo: about 10min
- Daikanbo Observatory

From this observatory is revealed the breathtaking beauty of this steep region with a great view of a vast mountainous expanse. This observatory is a mandatory passage to take the cable car to Kurobedaira. This platform perched at 2,316 meters above sea level is worth it with its panoramic view of the valley below and the lake formed by the Kurobe dam below. This is one of the most spectacular landscapes of the Alpine route!
※Cable car: Daikanbo - Kurobedaira: about 7min
- Tateyama Cable car

Connects Daikanbo to Kurobedaira and is Japan's longest cable car crossing. Also known as the "mobile panoramic terrace", you can enjoy a dynamic 360-degree panorama!
※Funicular: Kurobedaira - Kurobeko: about 5min
※Walk to Kurobe Dam: about 15min
- Kurobe Dam

It is one of the must-see sites on the Tateyama-Kurobe Alpine Route. Built in 1963 and with a height of 186, it is the highest in Japan dam in Japan. It overlooks a lake with emerald green waters. The dam can be crossed by foot and the raised observation deck located near Kanden Tunnel offers a great view of the whole area.
※From June 26 to October 15, you can see up close the spectacular white mist jets created by the impressive flow of water of more than 10 tons per second.

Bus from Kurobe Dam to Nagano: about 2 hours and 20 minutes

Return by train to Tokyo station: about 1h25 with 1 transfer.
