

Travel for visitors and special clients

Kyoto, Japan

© Sorasak <https://creativecommons.org/publicdomain/zero/1.0/>

Overview of our services: a weekend in Japan

Day 1: In the morning, an assistant will pick up your visitor(s) at their hotel, provide them with their vouchers and tickets, take them to the train station and get them settled in their seat on the Shinkansen - Japanese high speed train - for Kyoto, or other destinations.

Their English-speaking guide will be waiting for them on the platform of the arrival station, and take them to their lodging to drop off their luggage and then on to the sightseeing tours of the program (including lunch in a restaurant where their seats have been duly reserved).

From guided tours, traditional activities, such as tea ceremony, meditation, cooking or calligraphy class, to Kabuki show tickets and many others, your client(s) will have a wide range of choices to help them fully enjoy their destination city.

Check-in at the hotel.

In the evening, dinner at the hotel, or your visitor(s) might enjoy immersing themselves in a lively local neighborhood, where they will experience an adventure they'll want to tell their friends about.

To get back home, they simply show their hotel map to a cab driver, who will deliver them safe & sound back to their hotel.

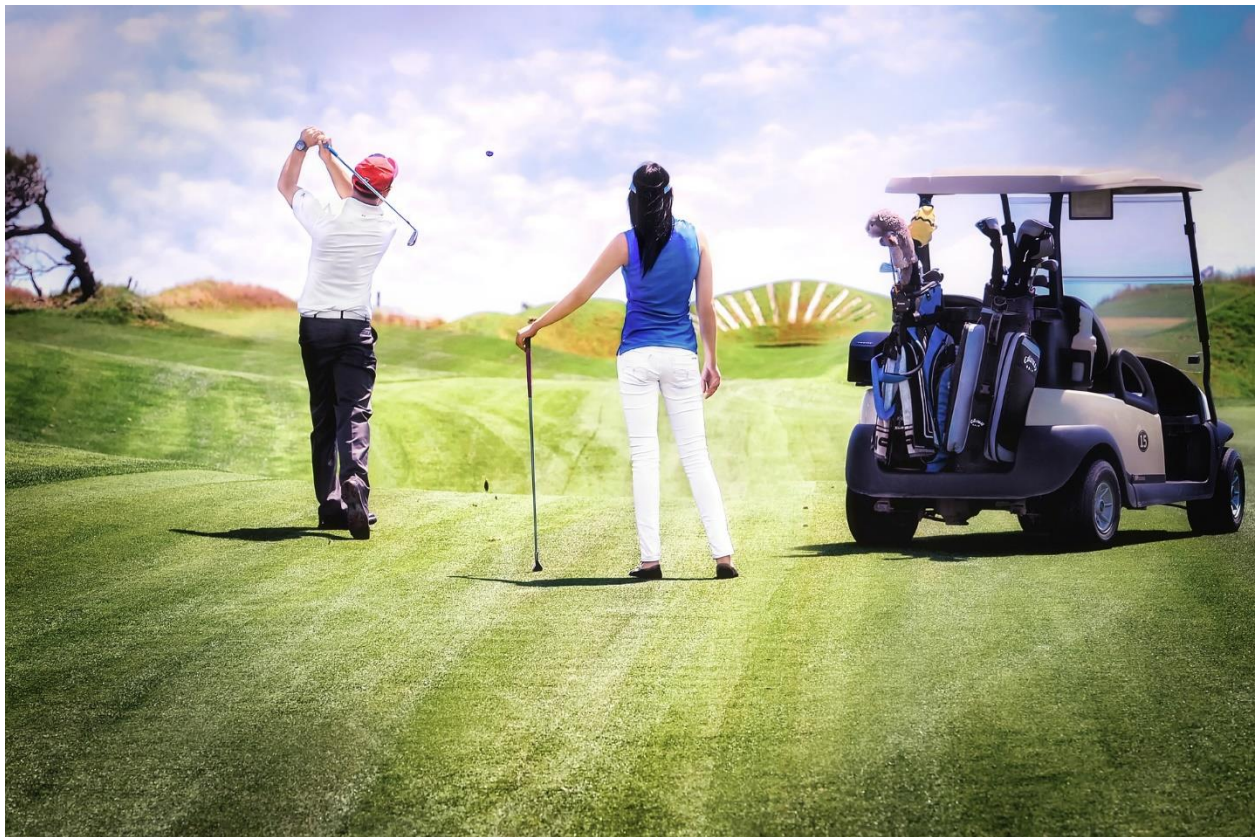

If they desire, FTC will have already booked a table at an upscale restaurant, as well as the transfer, in a private, chauffeured vehicle.

Day 2: Breakfast at the hotel, then meeting with the tour guide to go over the second day's program.

Whether it be an excursion, sports activity, golf, visiting exhibitions or art galleries, your client(s) will be accompanied throughout the day, and an interpreting service will be available if they wish.

At the end of the day, after collecting their baggage, the return trip is made as easy as the outbound trip and when you pick them up at the station platform, you will find your guests delighted from their trip.

Golf

© Alpcem, Pixab

You have a busy schedule, with many business meetings, however, your visitors and customers coming to Japan, will ask you to organize their excursions. France Travel Center offers you the solution. From a standard hotel trip to a luxury stay, we offer you customized, turnkey trips. Your visitors will be delighted and extremely satisfied with their experience.